Nearly Me®

#525 LEISURE T-SHIRT CAMISOLE

For women who want something lightweight, comfortable, and easy to wear after breast surgery.

Nearly Me® Mastectomy Products has added a new camisole to their post-op garment line - the #525 Leisure T-Shirt Camisole. Based on suggestions from customers, Nearly Me Technologies has designed a fashionable leisure camisole to address several needs of their consumers ...

- Made of comfortable cotton and spandex, this soft camisole offers flexible support as well as breathability.
- A built-in liner with hidden pockets can hold a lightweight fiberfill “puff” or a NEARLY ME CASUAL® foam form and has stitching to help hold the puff or form in place.
- The liner goes completely around the body with a covered wide elastic band under the natural breast for added stability, best fit and helping the liner remain comfortably against the body.
- The liner is 100% polyester to help wick away perspiration around the chest area.
- There is no hook and loop material that may rub against tender skin or snag the garments.
- The outer appearance of the camisole offers a smooth appearance and an easy fit with outer princess seams and can be worn under blouses and sweaters without puckering or looking like other after surgery garments.
- Puffs are sold separately to match the correct size to each individual woman and her surgery.
- Available in white, black and pink
- Sizes small - 3X.
- Made in the U.S.A.
